

with Les Grobstein, Steve Leventhal, and Alison Moran

Today's discussions centers around the White Sox and their futile attempts to stay in the division race in the AL Central. Meanwhile the Cubs lose another meaningless game, while the Brewers get back on the winning track. Hear a lively discussion / argument about Adam Dunn, or should we say Adam Done, and Carlos Zambrano. Lastly some talk about the last Bears preseason game, and the first weekend of college football.
